Baldwin Family Reunion.

The reunion of the descendants of Noah Baldwin, at the residence of Morris Culerson, Park Avenue, East Orange, on Monday last was as the bill boards say of the play, "a decided hit." Noah Baldwin had fourteen children but only three of them were spared to participate in this family event. Farrand Baldwin, a youth of about 85, was there with his wife and family. Another son was Cyrus Baldwin, who came with his family troupe from Ohio. Mrs. Elizabeth Kanouse, of West Orange, was the other one of the children. There were just thirty and nine children, grand and great-grand children present. Why they did not go out and find another so as to make it an even hundred we do not know. B. F. Baldwin, of Bloomfield, was there with his family. Jos. Williams and his wife; and the Kents, the Kanouses, the Culersons, the Peloubets, and the Sandfords were there. The direct line of descent from Noah. The rooms were beautifully decorated with palms and evergreens. Dinner was served precisely at 12, punctuality at the table being a marked characteristic of this family. They were called to dinner by the coach, which was blown by one of the "old boys." After dinner dancing was indulged in, among which was the old fashioned Virginia Reel, to which everybody joined. Old songs were sung and an Italian organ grinder who stopped in front of the house to play the tune "I am not as young as I used to be" was captured and treated with turkey while his organ was made to do service in the parlor, one of the gentlemen impersonating the monkey with marked ability and to the delight of the children.

Some of the older ones for the time forgot the 1st dramatic pains and capers about as when the children were young. The united efforts of all the grand grand children to hold aloft the legs of one of them who tips the scale at a modest 225. The ancient custom of going home before it is dark was adhered to in the shades of night had fallen this family had separated.

Belleville Avenue Crosswalks. There has been considerable denouncing among the tax payers on Belleville Avenue a crosswalk was not laid in front of the Greenwood Lake Railroad depot. In 1891 a petition was signed by about one hundred leading citizens, among them Thos. Dukes, who is now a member of the Town Committee, but as there were no funds the crosswalk asked for was not laid. This year the petition was again circulated and received fully as many signatures as before. It was put in every year and two of the crosswalks asked for were laid. The most important one, in front of the depot, was again laid over, although it would be in one of the most public places on the avenue and would cause no inconvenience.

There was found no hand when the request was first made to the present Committee and the officers are at a loss to understand why so simple a request could not have been granted. There are parties who would gladly furnish the stone and have the crosswalk laid without expense to the Township, but they have been given to understand that the crosswalk would have to be laid by the Contractor for the town work, according to specifications, etc., etc., which would make it more expensive than if laid by private individuals, at least some are so informed. The Committee make no objection to laying the walk other than that they have no funds which is not satisfactory to the petitioners because there were funds when the petition was signed in.

Glen Ridge. At the meeting of the Health Board on Tuesday, the Town Council was directed to notify W. O. Styles, who is agent for the Bates property, that the nuisance which has been so much complained of must be abated. It has made an endless amount of trouble for Health Officer Corby.

Thos. Moritz, telegraph operator at the Glen Ridge Station, while holding coal up the elevator shaft on Monday missed his footing, tumbling headlong down the shaft without receiving any injuries.

A large and fashionable audience filled the Glen Ridge Club House on Monday night to witness the plays presented by members of the Club. The curtain first rose upon the drama of "My Uncle's Will," which was well mounted and the parts ably sustained by all. The principal parts were taken by Mrs. H. E. Richards as Miss Florence Marigold, Mr. F. Upson as the Banker, Mrs. Gallagher as Chloffe Cashmore. It was a very interesting performance and elicited hearty applause. It was followed by a farce entitled "A Box of Monkeys" and the grotesque actions of the players gaudied everybody with laughter. The parts were taken as follows: Miss H. Northall as Mrs. Ondego Jones, Mrs. Hammond as Miss Bungalow, Miss Pierling as Guiberten Landport, Dr. Chauncey as Nod, and Mr. Skelting as Chauncey Skelting. Many of society's recognized leaders in Bloomfield, Glen Ridge and Montclair were present and gave evidence that the evening had been full of enjoyment for them.

There will be a meeting of the subscribers to the Glen Ridge Library in Glen Ridge Hall on Tuesday evening next. It is proposed to reorganize the library so that it may have a larger scope and be able to serve the foremost needs of this intelligent community. All residents of Glen Ridge, both male and female, are requested to be present and hear the plans that are to be presented.

The Young Men's Republican Club have made a new departure and entered the field for entertainment. From the programme they have arranged for the fair at Westminster chapel on Wednesday evening, January 13th, no doubt they will be as successful in this as they have been in other events. Miss Agnes Bowen, a soprano vocalist, is an artist well known here, who has a charming way of singing herself into your favor and captivate you with her angelic whistling. Miss George Lamson and Mr. Chas. Van Baer will be the pianists. Mr. William "Josh" Daly is a monologuist and has no superior. Fred H. Chase is billed as an illusionist and has a wonderful way of spitting things off, making bird cages and various articles vanish into the air.

There will be no illusion about this entertainment. Everyone who goes will realize very much pleasure and enjoyment.
